

UThant Names Finn As Cyprus Mediator

GENEVA (AP) — U.N. Secretary-General U Thant today appointed former Premier Sakari S. Tuomioja of Finland as mediator in the Cyprus dispute.

Tuomioja, 52, politician and diplomat, said he would take up his work in the strife-torn east Mediterranean island by the middle of next week.

His appointment was approved Tuesday by Greece, Turkey, Britain and the island's two feuding communities.

Tuomioja, who has been Finland's ambassador to Sweden, said he would fly to New York Sunday for further consultations with Thant.

Tuomioja's mission is to try to bring a permanent peace between the feuding Greek and Turkish Cypriot communities.

He said the Finnish government had given him a six months leave of absence, but "nobody can tell how long it will take." The mediator's mandate from the Security Council is for only three months, but it undoubtedly would be extended if factions and nations involved desired it.

With Tuomioja's appointment, the United Nations was almost ready to begin its two-fold task of enforcing a peace between the Greek and Turkish Cypriots and trying to mediate their bloody communal dispute.

Lt. Gen. Prem Singh Gyani, Indian commander of the U.N. peacekeeping force for the island, arrived back in Cyprus and said the international army may be operational by the end of the week. He had been in Geneva for two days of talks with Thant.

The Security Council's March 4 resolution authorized appointment of a neutral negotiator to seek a solution of the three-month-old conflict over the Cyprus constitution. The council

Storms Move Into Midwest

Hail Like Golf Balls Falls In Kansas City

By The Associated Press

Stormy weather moved into the Midwest today, causing hazardous driving in a four-state area, after early spring winds, snow and rain pounded the West for two days.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said the storm should reach the East Coast by tonight or Thursday.

The Weather Bureau issued hazardous driving warnings for south central and eastern Kansas, northern Missouri, south-eastern Iowa and west central Illinois. A persistent and sometimes heavy rain froze on highways as temperatures dropped.

Topeka, Kan., reported a thunderstorm which started Tuesday dropped sleet, freezing rain and hail. Hail described as the size of golf balls fell in Kansas City, Mo.

Snow fell in the central Plains and was expected to intensify as it moves into southern Iowa.

Unseasonably cold arctic air covering the north central states brought warm south winds sweeping in from the Gulf of Mexico. Showers and rain resulted through the lower and middle Mississippi Valley and northeast to Michigan.

Snow began tapering off in the mountains of Colorado, but still fell lightly. Flagstaff, Ariz., lay under 21 inches of snow. Schools were closed in the area and highways were clogged with drifted snow within a 40-mile radius.

Three highway deaths in separate accidents in Colorado were blamed on snow-slicked highways and roads.

The Weather Bureau said a heavy disturbance was indicated for the Southern and Gulf states tonight and Thursday.

Temperatures remained extremely cold in the west and north central area and dropped steadily in the Midwest.

Will Press for Action This Year

LBJ Hopeful of Medicare Passage

WASHINGTON (A) — President Johnson was described today as very hopeful that Congress will act this year on legislation to provide health care for the elderly, financed through Social Security.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, the assistant Senate Democratic leader, said in an interview that Johnson had canvassed the prospects for the program at a White House meeting with Democratic congressional chieftains Tuesday.

"The President is very interested in getting action on this matter and intends to press for it," Humphrey said.

Johnson told the United Automobile Workers convention in Atlantic City, N.J., Monday: "We are going to pass a medical assistance bill for the aged no matter how many months it takes. The sensible and prudent and lasting way to do this is through the Social Security System."

This pledge was open to at least two different interpretations. Most members of Congress seemed to think the President was conceding that "many months" — stretching into next year — would be required to get a bill passed. Others thought he meant he wanted Congress to stay on this year to get the job done.

Humphrey sided with the latter interpretation. He said he thinks there is a good possibility that some arrangements can be made to get House action on

Pentagon Cites Discrimination

Housing Bias Shown Against Negroes

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Pentagon-ordered survey showed there was housing discrimination against Negro servicemen near 90 per cent of the military bases in the United States, it was disclosed today.

Alfred B. Fitt, deputy assistant secretary of defense for civil rights, told The Associated Press that housing "clearly is the most unyielding" of the various forms of racial bias facing Negroes in uniform.

This discrimination, Fitt said, exists in Northern base areas as well as in the South. Only 31 of 305 bases studied were given a clean bill on this count. Fitt declined to name the 31.

The Pentagon's civil rights chief indicated that by the process of "negotiation and conciliation" base commanders had made progress in easing discrimination against Negro servicemen and their families in off-base schooling, transportation and use of such public facilities as parks and libraries.

"I'm sure that since last fall commanders have secured changes on behalf of their men," Fitt said.

Among other things, base commanders had been told to report whether the "treatment accorded Negro military personnel by the local police (is) in any way different from that accorded white military personnel."

The findings, Fitt said, "No case of significant difference in law enforcement between white and Negro servicemen."

The survey was ordered last September. Its basic objective, the Pentagon said at the time, was to obtain "necessary information for the formulation of future policy."

A total of 62 base areas turned up with such good records in the first reports made last November that the commanders were relieved of the responsibility of reporting again on May 1.

Although the names of these bases were not disclosed, Fitt said some were in Texas and Oklahoma.

Mrs. Glenn Campaigns In East Liverpool

Politics was on a casual basis Tuesday afternoon as Mrs. John Glenn Jr. campaigned in behalf of her husband's candidacy for the Democratic nomination as U. S. senator during a 90-minute visit to East Liverpool to attend a tea in her honor.

Mrs. Glenn was accompanied by Mrs. Scott Carpenter, wife of a fellow astronaut, and her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Glenn of New Concord. Each spoke briefly and then spent the remainder of the time chatting individually with the some 150 attending the reception sponsored by the County Democratic Executive Committee.

Following the tea, Mrs. Glenn, Mrs. Carpenter and the elder Glenns drove to Pittsburgh for a flight to Columbus and a night's rest before winding up their 10-day tour in Columbus today.

None of the four touched on political matters, leaving the chief political talk to Don R. Gosney of Columbiana, county

SALEM PLANT EXPANDING — A new 10,000-square-foot addition to the Paxson Machine Co. on the Benton Road is rapidly taking shape as structural steel beams are erected. The $60,000 investment will provide space for a weld shop, assembly area and to make room for anticipated sales of a new product line of tape-controlled punch and drill presses being marketed by Dimensional Control Machinery Co., a wholly owned subsidiary. No immediate increase in employment is foreseen, according to Robert Potter, executive vice president. The new addition also will be used for additional room for the Paxson slitters and cutup line.

Architect Progressing On School Sketches

Rapid progress on preliminary sketches of a proposed new Salem Senior High School addition to accommodate freshmen and a "new look" junior high is being made by Robert F. Beatty, East Liverpool architect hired by the P. S. of Education.

Beatty and Supt. of Schools Paul E. Smith have been consulting and touring the present facilities over the past few weeks with the goal of establishing a "meeting of minds."

"We are in fairly close agreement on our ideas," Smith reported today of the projected addition and improvements.

The plans will be presented to the Board of Education personally by Beatty, probably at the board's next regular meeting April 20, a discussion which is expected to occupy a lion's share of the session.

Beatty, who has designed four other Columbiana County schools in recent years, said before he won the board's appointment as architect that he considers the renovation of the junior high school a "real challenge." The crowded structure housing seventh through ninth graders has heating, lighting

Dr. Crowgey Is Named Health Commissioner

Dr. F. R. Crowgey of 120 W. 14th St. was selected by Mayor Dean B. Cranmer to fill the post left vacant by the sudden death of Dr. Raymond T. Holzbach Tuesday.

The 66-year-old semi-retired physician-surgeon was named the new health commissioner at a special meeting of the Board of Health at 4:30 p.m. Tuesday. The job pays $268 a month.

Dr. Crowgey, although retired, still maintains his association with the city's two hospitals by remaining on their staffs. He closed his office May 27, 1963.

The new health commissioner, who came to Salem in 1927, is a past president of the Rotary Club and the Columbiana County Medical Society. He is on the Red Cross, City Hospital and Community Chest boards.

Dr. Holzbach had been city

MacArthur Is Improving

General Not Past Crisis, However

WASHINGTON (AP) — Following his own promise "to do the very best I can," Gen. Douglas MacArthur was reported alert today and making satisfactory progress in recovery from the shock of two major operations in 17 days.

Col. Donald A. Campbell, executive officer of Walter Reed Army Medical Center, said this morning:

"Gen. MacArthur continues to progress satisfactorily indicating a better than average post-operative course. He is alert and conversing."

Under questioning, Campbell said his language meant the 84-year-old general of the Army was doing better than the average of patients who have been through the same kind of experience.

The new report followed earlier word from doctors that while the outlook is still "guarded," MacArthur was better than we had any right to hope for.

"There is good reason to hope progress will continue favorably," they had reported earlier.

However, U.S. Army Surgeon General Leonard D. Heaton said he could not say when the general would pass his crisis. The plans were to keep him in the emergency - equipped recovery room of the Walter Reed Army Medical Center, probably for a few days.

When his condition warrants, the general will be returned to his suite of rooms in the Ward 8 section, reserved by the Army for its most important patients. Sometime after his return, he will be allowed visitors.

A long hospitalization is not contemplated at present.

MacArthur, who holds the five-star rank of general of the Army, was in the recovery room soon after surgery when ward personnel heard him say: "I am going to do the very best I can."

MacArthur was recovering from a gall bladder operation March 6 and the jaundice which had brought him to the hospital was improving.

Early Monday morning doctors noted signs of severe internal bleeding in the digestive tract. Other than the bleeding, his condition was good, Heaton

1 Dead, Dozen Hurt As Race Violence Continues

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Flames and gunfire crackled in sections of this tense seaport for the second night, harshly punctuating racial violence which has killed one person and injured a dozen others.

Fires broke out Tuesday night in several Negro areas. Shotgun charges splattered a school building and a police car. Rocks and bottles struck several autos, injuring at least one motorist.

Mayor Haydon Burns, canceling a visit to Tampa in his campaign for governor, told his supporters there in a telephone speech that things were under control in Jacksonville.

Heavily reinforced police details rounded up more than 100 Negroes during the night, raising the total arrests to nearly 350 since Monday's outbreak of violence climaxed weeks of anti-segregation demonstrations.

More than 20 Negroes and two white youths were charged with carrying firearms, said Asst. Police Chief H. V. Branch. Two Negroes had firebombs, he said.

At least three blades were attributed to firebombs. Firemen answered about 50 calls—40 of them false alarms.

A shotgun blast shattered two windows of Central Adult School a block from police headquarters. Ten persons in a second story classroom escaped injury.

Police Sgt. James Miller said buckshot from a shotgun charge hit his car as he was driving through a Negro section. He was not hurt.

Motorists reported they ran into a hail of bricks and other missiles at several intersections in predominantly Negro areas. One person was cut by flying glass from a shattered windshield.

At least seven persons were injured during the day and night in various incidents.

Shortly after midnight police reported 74 cases docketed. Charges included vandalism, damage to private property, disorderly conduct, possession of firearms and fire bombs, vagrancy and prowling.

Weapons seized included a derringer, several pistols and rifles and a wide variety of knives.

The trouble Tuesday started after a false bomb threat at a

Negroes Plan Protest March

Crosses Burned In Mississippi City

GREENWOOD, Miss. (AP)—Negroes plan to march on the court house today—despite warnings from city officials—to renew a voter registration campaign which spawned violence when it first started just one year ago.

Three burlap-draped crosses burned Tuesday night in this city of 23,000, located in the heart of the cotton-growing Mississippi delta. Negroes outnumber whites nearly 2-1 in the area.

Mayor Charles E. Sampson called on Greenwood residents to stay away from any areas where demonstrations might occur.

"Demonstrators thrive on attention," said Sampson. "If they don't get it, they will soon leave us alone."

He said police would not permit any marches or organized formations on city streets and sidewalks.

Police, using a trained dog, dispersed civil rights demonstrators marching on the Le-flore County court house several times last March.

The cross burnings were the first such in at least 10 years, police said. One cross—about five feet tall—flared on the courthouse lawn. Police watched it burn out.

Another was set along a busy street in a predominantly white residential area and the third near the headquarters of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee.

Sampson said he was surprised at the new developments. He said over 2,000 Negroes had applied for voter registration in the past year. In 1963, the federal government estimated there were 470 registered Negro voters in the county.

The renewed vote registration drive was called by the Council of Federated Organizations, representing all major civil rights groups in the state. COFO said it plans similar drives in some 20 other Mississippi cities.

Excused Bible Verse, News Clipping Get Man Off Jury Duty

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A newspaper clipping and a Bible verse got a newlywed excused from a week's jury duty Tuesday.

Clyde Nathan Williams approached Judge Arnold Krichamer and handed him two pieces of paper.

One was a news clipping telling of his marriage to Miss Glenda Cone March 7.

On the other piece of paper, Williams had copied the fifth verse of the 24th chapter of Deuteronomy:

"When a man hath taken a wife, he shall not go out to war, neither shall he be charged with any business: but he shall be free at home one year, and shall cheer up his wife which he hath taken."

The judge checked the passage in a Bible he keeps on his desk and sent Williams home.

Flood Disaster Relief Meeting Scheduled

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — a telegram that the Office of Emergency Planning, which made the initial allocation, would be authorized to provide supplemental allocations to Ohioans if necessary.

The disaster area, stricken by the flooding Ohio River earlier this month, covers 44 counties previously designated by the governor as needing aid.

In a preliminary report, Rhodes listed damage to public property at $2,665,550, damage to private property at $6,669,750 and the estimated minimum federal assistance required at $2,132,400.

Soon after the first allocation was announced, the civil defense division of the Adjutant General's Department set up four meetings.

The division will explain provisions of Public Law 875 under which federal funds can be made available for certain approved emergency projects involving publicly owned property.

James F. Worster Sr., deputy director of civil defense, said the meetings would be in Chillicothe at 1:30 p.m. today at the Elks Lodge and Club; at 1:30 p.m. Thursday at the Hamilton County civil defense headquarters in Cincinnati; at 1:30 p.m. Friday in the basement assembly room of the courthouse in Marietta, and at 1:30 p.m. Saturday in the basement jury room of the courthouse in Akron.

At the sessions, county and municipal officers will be briefed by Ohio civil defense staff members on procedures in applying for aid under the federal law.

Sea Scorpion Fossils Found In State

CINCINNATI (AP)—The University of Cincinnati reported today the finding of 400 million-year-old giant sea scorpion fossils near Manchester.

Dr. Kenneth E. Caster, professor of geology and an authority on fossils, called them "the most spectacular ever found in the Cincinnati strata."

He said the sea scorpions were prehistoric relatives of the modern desert scorpions and may have reached as much as six feet in length. They suffocated in a great fall of volcanic ash which preserved them completely, he said.

The first of the fossils was found about 25 years ago but UC geology students and staff members now have collected more than 100 specimens from the Manchester site — once an ocean floor.

As a result of the Ohio study, Dr. Caster said the long-established scientific classification of all sea scorpions may need revision and the kinship of the group to other creatures must be re-examined.

Scaly bodies, spiny legs and paddle-legs, with a pair of great sickle-like pincers at the end of the tail spine, made the ancient scorpions formidable creatures.

Nothing like the tail pincers of the Ohio fossil has ever before been reported in the fossil record, Dr. Caster said. Today's insects known as earwigs have a similar pair of forceps.

On exhibit at UC is one fossil scorpion nearly three feet long. Fragments of others twice as long are in the collection.

The sea scorpions are known technically as eurypterida.

Life of a Actor

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—To many people made snug by the certainty of a regular paycheck, the life of an actor seems to hold more desperation and boredom than it does glamor.

If you don't work, you nearly starve; if you do work, often you have to do the same thing over and over — like a fellow turning out grommets in a factory.

But Jackie Gleason once summed up the lure of show business when he proclaimed that if he weren't an actor he'd like to shine an actor's shoes.

"That's the way I feel about it," remarked Robert Morse. "It's a great thrill. The thrills are worth all the uncertainty, the wondering what will come up next."

Morse, who looks as young and bouncy as an eager-eyed college freshman, hardly has to worry now where to find a garret to sleep in.

He has just completed a romantic film comedy in which he costars with singer Robert Goulet. Two more films he has been signed for have turned him into a commuter between here and Hollywood.

Before resuming the film career he started in 1956, Morse who also has appeared on a number of television productions, made his mark by scoring in four hit Broadway shows in a row, an unusual record for any performer.

"The main thing an actor needs is a lot of patience and luck—and the desire and ability to grow with his luck," he says. "If you don't grow, if you stay the same, you're in trouble."

Before luck began breaking his way, Morse went through ordeals that would have broken the spirit of a less durable optimist. But the sandy-haired, blue-eyed young actor still retains the curiosity and enthusiasm of a chipmunk on a sunny day.

After being graduated from high school in Newton, Mass., he migrated to Manhattan where he began his career by handling a spotlight in a children's theater for $12 a week.

There followed a number of hand-to-mouth jobs while he lived in a sixth-floor walkup cubicle which cost him $7 a week.

He parked cars for a restaurant, sold cookies, and for a time he knocked on any door selling household brushes.

After a four-year hitch in the Navy, he saved $300 which lasted him until he began to find regular radio and television work.

"I've been very fortunate. I'm not afraid of financial insecurity any longer — just the ordinary insecurity of living," he said.

But Something Lingers On

It would be a gross miscarriage of some well-laid plans if Bobby Baker is not filed and forgotten, as far as further official Senate inquiry is concerned.

The same Democrats who made him what he was until outside dissatisfaction was voiced against him and he resigned have the power to close the inquiry into his affairs. This they have done.

They apparently cannot be kept from doing it, and it would have been surprising if they hadn't done it. Everybody expected them to do it. There was, in fact, nothing else to do.

Such an inquiry could drag on as endlessly as the ramifications of the wheeling and dealing that transformed the clerk of the Senate majority into a man of wealth and power. Everything it brought to light would be painful to the Democrats, who saw nothing wrong with their Senate secretary, and delightful to the Republicans, who never did get the mileage out of Billie Sol Estes they expected and were counting on Bobby Baker to give them a talking point in the 1964 campaign.

They're still counting on him, of course, because all they need to say now is that things finally got so hot to handle the investigators had to give up. The investigation is over, but something lingers on.

Victims Deserve the Worst

There is no reason the title of heavy-weight boxing champion of the world cannot be taken away from the young man who now holds it. The title is bestowed by edict and can be removed the same way.

It is not something a man wins by his own excellence. It is something a man is permitted to bid for with his fists if he, his owners and his managers have satisfied certain financial, legal and, on occasions, illegal requirements.

But by all that's decent and aboveboard, the title shouldn't be lifted from its present holder because of shortcomings in his personal character — not after letting it reside with its previous holder. There must be some limit to flummery even in the murky muddle of professional pugilism.

Come to think of it — flummery, that is — might this be the historically correct moment to dump the whole chreod of championship pugilism into oblivion?

If all of us resolved to quit taking the charade seriously, the manly art of modified murder would go back where it started, with cockfighting and dogfighting. It would be an illegal pleasure for sadists who like to see other creatures bleed, suffer and die.

This won't happen, of course. It would take too much money out of too many pockets. As long as people like to be fooled, fooling them will be big business.

As for people who don't like to be fooled, the threatened blowup in the heavy-weight boxing racket has all the impact of an explosion in a glue works. It couldn't happen to more deserving victims.

Sooner the Better!

Salem citizens are encouraged by the resumption of work on the W. State St. overpass.

It was not until construction work began last spring that residents began to realize that the project, long a topic of conversation, was an actuality, although need of the grade separation at the Pennsylvania railroad had existed for years.

If spring weather continues to be favorable, the contractor expects to complete the bridge within six weeks, which would make the opening of the span in early May.

It can't happen too soon!

By Truman Twill

my old man's routine when he took me to the store to be outfitted from toe to top for Easter, ending with a refusal to pay unless the clothing store proprietor threw in a new belt for nothing. It was his version of shrewd buying, and I doubt if he ever knew the belt would have been thrown in anyway.

An old hand at the bar (legal) called the turn on Melvin M. Belli before the Jack Ruby trial started in Dallas. "That local jury will find against the showboat lawyer from San Francisco," he predicted. "Poor Ruby will get lost in the shuffle."

Some of the happiest nights of my life are being enjoyed this March while winds blow and temperatures sink and I do not have to worry about lambs being born and freezing to death in an unheated barn.

If we were to get as starchily moral about other ways of raising money as we get about government lotteries, would we give up excise taxes on liquor, tobacco and cosmetics and forego income from widows and pensioners? Funny, how moralists blow hot and cold.

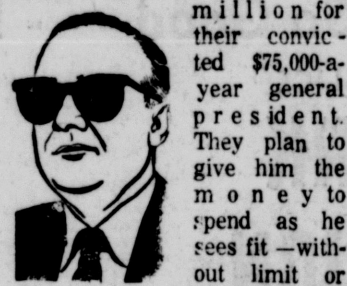

My own experiences in dancing school prompted me to fight the idea when it was proposed for my own sons, and I am sure they will go down to defeat when their time comes. Dancing schools are for girls, not boys, and are promoted by mothers, not fathers.

Fund Drive for Hoffa

By VICTOR RIESEL
Friends of Jimmy Hoffa's inside the Teamsters, believing he may be short of cash, have launched a drive to raise $1.5 million for their convicted $75,000-a-year general president.

Victor Riesel

To speed matters so that they can more quickly prove their devotion to the chief, the Hoffa fraternity has devised a simple formula — they are now calling on each of the Brotherhood's 900 locals to send him a check totaling $1 for each union member. This could easily net the $1.5 million which would give Brother Hoffa some financial elbow room despite the geometric rate at which he is accumulating legal fees. Federal law forbids the Teamsters to pay such personal legal bills.

FEW KNOW where the fund-raising drive was initially conceived but the record shows that it was launched in Birmingham, Ala., a week after the Hoffa conviction and on the night before his sentencing.

A resolution was passed at a meeting of Local 612 members that evening, which lashed out at "certain persons in high political office." A key passage of the document, which was drawn up and mailed to all Teamsters' locals, said:

"The members of Teamsters Local 612 hereby authorize the president and secretary-treasurer to issue a check in the amount of $1 per member to James R. Hoffa in order that he may be able to spend these monies as he sees fit and proper without limitation and without reservation as to the means and method for the purpose of such expenditures; this authorization and donation by the general membership is made voluntarily at this general membership meeting specially called for the purpose of making this expenditure."

THE RESOLUTION in its entirety was sent to all the locals by G. Sam Webb, the president and business manager of Local 612. In his covering letter Webb urges all other Teamsters' officials to call similar membership meetings to take similar action.

Not content with merely dispatching this message, Webb appears eager to put the other union leaders — of whom there are over 5,000 — on record.

"We also request that you notify us of your intentions concerning this matter," Webb wrote.

Hundreds of thousands of dollars can easily be raised in this fashion, for there are pro-Hoffa locals with as many as 15,000 are made at meetings attended by only three or four hundred.

HOFFA CAN use such funds. His legal bills will be enormous and the law says that he must pay them out of his own pocket, since jury tampering is a personal offense in which the Teamsters Brotherhood is not legally involved. Therefore, he cannot take the money out of the treasury, which last year alone poured out almost a million dollars in legal fees.

Jimmy Hoffa had a personal "bar association" working for him. In Chattanooga he had from 12 to 16 lawyers at one time either in the courtroom — where the trial itself ran 45 days — or in his hotel. He flew over the weekends to other cities where he met regularly with another battery of attorneys to go over the daily transcripts which had accumulated during the week.

These transcripts, themselves, are costly. They can easily run upward of $25,000 for seven weeks. Then there is the cost of the appeal, the maintenance of a big legal staff on an out-of-town basis, the cost of hiring specialists such as electronics expert Bernie Spindel of New York, and the tab for other investigations.

THERE WILL be other court costs. Everyone appears to be overlooking the fact that Hoffa, having been convicted of tampering with the Nashville jury which could not agree in his 1962 case, will undoubtedly be retried on the original charge of accepting $1 million from a trucking company.

The next month he and seven others will stand trial in Chicago on charges of "... fraudulently obtaining more than $20 million in 14 loans for themselves and others from the Central States Teamster Pension Fund." They also are charged with diverting "more than $1 million from the loans for their personal benefit." There are 28 counts in this "mail and wire fraud" indictment. This will be a long trial.

One government source estimated the cost to Hoffa at about a quarter of a million dollars before all the appeals are in. None of this is tax deductible.

That dollar-a-man drive comes just at the right time — for Jimmy Hoffa!

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I have heard the expression "Seven-Year Itch" and paid no attention suddenly seems that "Seven-Year Itch" is more than a phrase. I think I may have it. My husband is a fine man although not as affectionate as I wish he were. We have four healthy, reasonably well-behaved children, an adequate income, part-time help in the house, community interests and nice "mind - your - own-business type in-laws" — as you put it. By most standards I should be blissfully happy.

I confess, however, that I have feelings of restlessness. I keep thinking perhaps I'm missing something — that there must be more to life than this.

Do I need a vacation? I haven't had one in four years. Maybe I need a swift kick, or a head-shrinker. Or do I have the Seven-Year Itch?—A.M.

Dear A.M.: "Seven-Year Itch" is a term. Statistics show that the seventh year of marriage is, for some mysterious reason, the toughest one.

Any skin doctor will tell you that a little itch can develop into a stubborn, tough-to-get-rid-of problem if it is badly diagnosed or ineptly treated. At the same time, it mustn't be ignored.

The best cure for the "Seven-Year Itch" is to take inventory. Weigh the positive aspects of your marriage against the negative ones. You say you have a fine man, four healthy children, an adequate income, good in-laws — and then you add mournfully, "There must be more to life than this."

Yes, there IS more... and if you start fooling around looking for excitement you may find it. That "more" could be intolerable guilt fear of being found out, self-crimination, a shattered marriage and a lifetime of regret.

Greedy Daughter

Dear Ann: A few years ago I remarried for companionship. It seemed like a fine arrangement for two older people who were lonely. I had a little money and Cyril was comfortably fixed. Together, we have made some good investments.

Cyril's only child, a daughter who married well, told me recently that when her father dies there will be no bickering over his estate because she is his sole heir. This was so embarrassing I made no reply.

I hesitate to mention the incident to my husband because he may feel I'm criticizing his daughter. I have seen her three times since the ugly remark was made and confess I'm no longer warmly disposed toward the girl.

I fear this feeling will grow and it will drive a wedge between her father and me. Can you advise me? — FORT LAUDERDALE WOMAN.

Dear Woman: If you have not sat down with your husband and an attorney to discuss your wills (his and yours) this should be the first order of business next Monday morning. Don't repeat the daughter's ugly remark to your husband. It would serve no purpose except to worsen a relationship which doesn't sound particularly healthy.

TO DECEMBER: It doesn't matter which way you choose, he won't marry you, regardless.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Empty Words

By DAVID LAWRENCE
President Johnson has done what his predecessors did — make speeches to labor unions urging them not to bring on any wage - price spirals, but insofar as enforcing this viewpoint is concerned, every time a chief executive addresses a big labor union the government subsequently presents the image of a helpless bystander.

President Johnson in his address on Monday to the convention at Atlantic City of the United Automobile Workers of America said that avoiding the wage-price spiral is "the responsibility of business and it is also the responsibility of labor." He added: "The international position of the dollar... demands that our prices and our costs not rise."

But the UAW, in a statement just a few days ago, pointed out that the union doesn't think the pay - benefit gains which it seeks would necessarily increase prices because, it contended, the auto corporations had record profits and rising productivity.

While Mr. Johnson urged that "restraint" be exercised by both sides at the bargaining table next July and declared that the public interest requires stability of costs and prices, there is no law by which the government at present can insure that its viewpoint will be respected.

THE KENNEDY administration, of course, intervened to prevent a price increase in steel and claimed to have previously influenced the labor side. But the management of the steel companies had to pay wage increases just the same.

The advisers of the late President Kennedy thought they had introduced a new approach when it was announced that certain "guidelines" would be set to restrain both sides. Wage increases would be granted on the basis of certain gains in productivity.

The labor unions, after a brief acquiescence in the idea, soon discarded it as impracticable, primarily because it interfered with their own freedom of action in demanding wage benefits.

For all practical purposes, government intervention is confined at present to exhortations begging both sides to be careful and restrained. But when a labor union is as influential politically as the United Auto workers—which indirectly plays a big part in political campaigns — it isn't likely that President Johnson, or any other Democratic president, will disagree with their policy in collective-bargaining negotiations. Mr. Johnson, at the Atlantic City labor meeting, voiced a sentiment often expressed but little practiced when he said: "I'm here to tell you that we are going to do those things which need to be done, not because they are politically correct, but because they are right."

MR. JOHNSON'S speech to the Auto Workers Union dealt only to a small extent with labor-union matters. He talked about the legislation pending before Congress, "the war on poverty," the federal budget, economic conditions, medical care and other issues of general importance.

He dealt with the labor-union matters briefly, and disavowed any intention of interfering in labor disputes. He said:

"This administration has not undertaken, and will not undertake, to fix prices and wages in this economy. We have no intention of intervening in every labor dispute. We are neither able or willing to substitute our judgment for the judgment of those who sit at the local bargaining tables across the country."

"We can suggest guidelines for the economy, but we cannot fix a single pattern for every plant and every industry. We can and we must, under the responsibilities given to us by the constitution and by statute, and by necessity, point out the national interest, and, where applicable, we can and we must, and we will, enforce the law on restraints of trade and national emergencies."

"The words I have just read are the words of John Fitzgerald Kennedy, spoken to this same great convention on May 8, 1962. It was the policy of this government then; it is the policy of this government today."

THE SPEECH referred to was delivered a month after Mr. Kennedy had intervened to compel the steel companies to rescind their price increase. What it all amounts to is a refusal on the part of national administrations to intervene in the far-reaching process of fixing the wage costs which inevitably affect prices.

Speeches by presidents will be heard again and again calling on both sides to be "restrained" and to consider the "public interest." But as long as there is no law on the subject, it's unlikely that the American economic system will ever be kept from indulging in wide swings, bringing a series of recessions and recoveries as labor and management fight it out in full sight of the government, but without any supervision in regard to the economic welfare of the entire country.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1911, 147 persons were killed when the Triangle Waist Co., building was destroyed by fire in New York City. Many young women garment workers were trapped by staircases cluttered with rubbish, locked doors and inadequate elevators. NON-FICTION

TELL ME HOW by Theodore F. Adams. A little book of brief inspirational essays such as: How to Face up to Life, How to Become More than You are, How the Bible can mean more to you. The author is a well-known Baptist minister.

LIFE AND THE PHYSICAL SCIENCES by Harold J. Morowitz. This is a brief introduction to biophysics and requires a knowledge of chemistry, physics and mathematics for thorough understanding. However there is much of it that can be understood by a person having only a slight background in these sciences.

GOD'S OWN JUNKYARD by Peter Blake. Mr. Blake is a very angry man indeed. He is angry at the many diverse commercial and other interests whom he accuses of conspiring to deface literally almost every acre of the landscape in this big country. He proves it by contrasting pictures which make one cringe at the ugliness we have to endure.

THE ARCHITECTURE OF ENGLAND by Doreen Yarwood. A comprehensive and detailed history of architecture with many photographs, some in color, and hundreds of carefully delineated drawings of details of parts of buildings.

MUSICAL ITALY REVISITED by Siegmund Levaré. This author takes you on a tour through thirty-four cities and towns of Italy where mementos of famous Italian musicians or artisans may be found, where you may see organs built in the 16th century and still intact, where many famous opera singers began their careers, where equally famous composers lived and worked.

THE HORSEMAN'S DICTIONARY by Bloodgood and Santini. Around 3,500 definitions are included in this dictionary - one can find almost any term which is in any way connected with horses defined.

THE FLOWER AND THE CASTLE by Maurice Valency. A history of the theatre which treats especially of the causes and development of the radical change in the theatre during the nineteenth century, especially Ibsen and Strindberg.

HENRY OF NAVARRE by Hesketh Pearson. Mr. Pearson's intent is to separate the man and the person of Henry IV of France from the minutiae of petty gossip and court intrigue and political smallnesses. He makes of him a very likeable, if somewhat weak in certain respects, personage.

AS THE FALCON HER BELLS by Phillip Glasier. This is not only a fine book about falconry, but is the story of much of the author's life, and of his family's life. It also manages to include a great deal of fine description of nature - and of wild animal life.

THE MINNESOTA, FORGOTTEN RIVER by Evan Jones. There have now been more than 50 of the Rivers of America series published. This is filled with fascinating bits of history and colorful descriptions of by-gone days when the keel-boats came up the Mississippi and into the Missouri as they did into the other tributaries of the greatest of American rivers.

EDGAR ALLAN POE by Irwin Porges. Another biography of Poe is always welcome, especially when it reads easily and shows evidence of good research, as this one does.

IN RETROSPECT: THE HISTORY OF A HISTORIAN by Arthur M. Schlesinger. It is good to read the frank story of this noted historian who was born in Xenia, Ohio, and spent the first thirty years of his life in this state. His personality has influenced his writing as it does that of every writer, and here we feel as if we become well acquainted with that personality.

FICTION

THE WAPSHOT SCANDAL by John Cheever. This continues the experiences of the surviving members of the Wapshot family, all of whom we met in the earlier book THE WAPSHOT CHRONICLE. Those who liked the first book will also like this, although Cheever does not write for everyone. There is no neat plot which comes out properly in the end, but there are delightful and unpleasant people, and there is surprising humor and some very fine writing.

A GOD AND HIS GIFTS by Ivy Compton-Burnett. A late-Victorian English family with all of its ramifications of relatives, servants and friends are shown to us almost entirely by means of their conversation. It is a faithful picture which brings home to us the vast contrast the past seventy years have made in our way of life.

REUBEN, REUBEN by Peter de Vries. Much longer than usual for this author, this novel has also a good deal more sense mixed with his usual nonsense.

Suburban Connecticut forms the background, the characters are as odd and as unlikely as one could imagine, as is the story itself.

PILGRIM AT SEA by Par Lagerkvist. Brief, puzzling, yet compelling is the description one reviewer has given this latest novel by this Swedish Nobel Prize winner. It is a story of man's seeking, whether after God or some unattainable something we cannot be quite sure, but the reading is a good experience.

VAIN SHADOW by Jane Hervey. An unusual novel in that the total time which elapses from beginning to end of it is the four days from the morning when Colonel Winthorpe dies to the evening of the day of his burial. But it is done well enough that even one of its characters seems an old acquaintance by the time it has finished - and each one's life has altered greatly.

FALSE COLOURS by George Heyer. A light novel of the English Regency period with an added fillip of twins so much alike that even their mother cannot tell them apart.

KAMPOON STREET by Lin Tai-yi. A very poor family - a mother and her young son and a beautiful daughter - in Hong-Kong yearn for escape from poverty and hardship. When a wealthy playboy becomes enamored of the daughter, she becomes his mistress partly from attraction to him and partly to relieve the hardships of her family. But they find that this is only the beginning of their trouble.

TOO YOUNG TO BE A GRANDFATHER by Willard Temple. A gay, light tale about a man whose daughter gets married and in the natural course of events provides him with a grandson about a year later - when he has not yet gotten used to having her out of grade school.

BLACK AMBER by Phyllis Whitney. This has a good formula for entertainment - a pretty girl is playing the part of someone else in an exotic household: Istanbul finds that her own life is in danger. Suspense right up to the last line on the last page.

The YTC and WCTU will be meeting together in April.

The intermediate Youth Fellowship will hold a paper drive March 30. For pick-up call Mrs. Gilmer Coffee or Mrs. Ernest Moser.

Two questions are uppermost in the quiz:

(1) Who will be the new host family?

(2) Who will be the new student from a foreign country coming 'o Salem to study next fall?

The family will be known first. Two are "in the running", both prominent and eminently qualified to furnish a home base for the boy, whoever he may be.

One of the families has two children, a boy and a girl; the other has three children, all boys. The decision will be made by the New York office of AFS after careful scrutiny of application forms and information from Secretary Carol Cook.

"The chief criterion for the selection of a host family is potential compatibility with the host student," Mrs. Cook, an old hand at host interviewing, says.

The announcement of the host family is expected to be mailed to president-elect Rolin Herron about mid-April. The new student will remain a mystery until early May.

The huge staff in New York is in the process of selecting hundreds of applicants from many foreign lands to go abroad and study in American high schools next September. From out of this huge amalgamation of pupils will come Salem's fifth AFS pupil.

Both host families have requested a boy so this matter is a certainty. He will be only the second boy to come to Salem since the program began in 1960.

Word is expected soon from the AFS office relating to a busload of students who may visit the city for about two days this summer before the foreign pupils return home. Thirty-three families opened their doors to the 36 students last summer and equally good response is hoped for this year by current president Donald Lease.

Dear Heloise: We run an alteration and custom dressmaking shop.

I know that many of your readers, including you, do your own sewing. We all need a good pincushion for our straight pins.

Where can one be found? Who knows?

For 20 years we used every kind of pin cushion that could be bought on the market. Two years ago we made our own. And here's how we did it:

We took some scraps of wool and filled them with coffee, of all things. We found out that coffee grounds (and we did not use the fine type, but the plain old percolator type) not only held the pins in place but that it had just enough oil to lubricate the pins and keep them from rusting!

We found that wool was the easiest type of material to stick the pins into. (Be sure to use a closely woven wool so that the coffee grounds will not come out.) Or even better still, a piece from an old felt hat.

Here's another little hint—instead of making the pincushion square we found that if we made them long and narrow, about two inches wide and six inches long, that we could find the pins much easier.

As I know you want your housewives to learn to save every minute they possibly can, I thought you would be interested.

MIMI.

Dear Mimi: I tried your hint for six months before I published your letter, so I hope you did not worry and won-

The Doctor Says

By Dr. WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT

Plasma Expanders Developed

The astronomers say that the universe is expanding. Your doctor, with his sights closer to earth, is content to find a useful plasma expander. This is a substance that is cheap and can be used instead of a transfusion of human whole blood or plasma in treating shock or hemorrhage.

LMD, first made in England but now available in this country, has been discovered. It has been found to have uses far beyond the treatment of shock and hemorrhage due to its ability to prevent the clumping together or "sludging" of red blood cells in the smaller blood vessels.

IT WAS USED, for example, to treat a 16-year-old girl who had extensive burns and severe fractures of both legs. After her wounds had been treated and shock had been controlled, the circulation in both her feet was found to be failing and her toes showed early signs of gangrene.

It was believed that the toes would have to be amputated when the local counterpart of Dr. Casey suggested a transfusion using LMD. Within an hour after this was started the circulation began to return to both feet. Soon thereafter the young woman was able to move her toes and to feel pin pricks—neither of which she could do before.

AN OLDER WOMAN who had Raynaud's disease had beginning gangrene of the tip of one finger. She was given LMD on three successive days. Again within one hour after starting the first transfusion the pain in her finger disappeared and the finger, formerly cold and blue, became pink and warm.

Another woman with a clot in the large femoral artery in her left thigh complained of severe pain. Her leg below the clot was cold and blue and no pulse could be felt in the leg. Within an hour after starting a transfusion of LMD her pain was subsiding and the circulation had returned to her leg.

This is the kind of scientific breakthrough man has waited thousands of years for. More can be expected in the future.

Pinch Way to Fine Mums

By ALLAN SWENSON
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Spring is mum-pinching time in the garden.

Chrysanthemums often get long and spindly by autumn. They fall over just when they should look their best.

To prevent this, take a few minutes today to pinch back the mums. All you need to do is to use thumb and forefinger to pinch out the young, growing tips. This makes the plant branch out. It doesn't get so long and leggy, and produces a sturdy, well-branched plant with house flowers.

SIMPLY REMOVE the top half-inch of each shoot, when the plants are eight inches tall. In a few days you'll see new side branches start to form. As soon

Easter Buying Headed for Record

NEW YORK (AP) — Easter buying appears headed for a record, helped by a boost from the income tax cut.

Merchants say most of the effect of the tax reduction is psychological because taxpayers haven't realized much as yet in the way of savings.

Shopping got off to a rather fast start because Easter falls so early this year, and was reported picking up steam as the holiday approached.

In New York, J. Gordon Dakins, executive secretary of the National Retail Merchants Association, said reports from around the country indicated a 5 per cent gain over last year although snows, floods and tornadoes hampered shopping in some areas.

Dakins said the tax cut was one element making it possible to sell more goods. People have fewer worries and more confidence in the future, he said, and are spending accordingly.

Most of the money, as usual, is going into apparel for the Easter parades.

An Associated Press survey of major cities indicated the buying trend is up in most areas.

FALL PROVES FATAL

CINCINNATI (AP) — A fall down a 15-sten flight of stairs was blamed Tuesday for the death of William Hal French, 50, purchasing director for Trailmobile, Inc. Police said he slipped and fell while leaving the second floor office of United Artist Television Co.

Sale of Phony Pep Pills Backfires On Boy, 18

An 18-year-old senior and two younger boys, all students at Beaver Local High School, are scheduled for hearings Friday at 10 a. m. before Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin at Lisbon on charges stemming from the alleged sale of pulverized aspirin that was represented as an aphrodisiac drug.

Juvenile Officer James Miller, who made a long investigation in the case, charged that the three sold — or attempted to sell — tiny quantities of the powdered aspirin at prices ranging from $2 to $3.75.

In a sales pitch to fellow students, they represented the aspirin as cantharides, a drug which has a widespread reputation in folklore as a sexual stimulant, he said.

The 18-year-old, classed under state law as an adult, was identified as Robert Prescott of RD 5. He is charged with contributing to the delinquency of four juveniles, Miller said.

The other two, both under 18, are accused of attempting to sell the white powder to several other fellow students, the juvenile officer said. Seven boys in all have been summoned to appear in court, but four of them will be before the judge as witnesses, not defendants, Miller said.

The investigation which led to citation of the boys dates back approximately five weeks. First notification of the sale of the alleged "drug" came to Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan from a member of the Beaver Local School District Board of Education.

The investigation was turned over to Miller, as it involved juveniles.

Miller said Prescott was apprehended by East Palestine police on March 11 when he allegedly attempted to sell a quantity of the white powder to a boy in East Palestine. The youth tipped off the East Palestine police, who took Prescott in custody. The officers then notified Miller.

Miller said he returned to Beaver Local High on numerous occasions and talked with a large number of students in the course of the investigation.

He said he has not been able to learn how many sales of the phony aphrodisiac were made. However, the powdered aspirin could not have caused any ill effects, he said.

One alleged "dose" which Miller confiscated was in a stoppered red glass vial about an inch high. The powdered white solution barely covered the bottom of the small container.

Miller said samples of the powder were checked with physicians, who explained that it was only ground-up aspirin. He said Prescott has been suspended from school pending the outcome of the hearing.

plans will form the basis for the amount of the bond issue to be decided by the board. An unofficial estimate of the cost of the Senior High addition alone sets the figure at $375,000.

Beatty, designer of Crestview and Southern Local Schools, Beaver Local Public School and Leetonia's Orchard Hill School, will not be paid a fee for his services unless the bond issue passes next fall. If the issue is approved, Beatty will get six per cent of the costs of both the Senior and Junior High jobs.

The superintendent estimates that 20 rooms of class space will be needed to permit the migration of the freshmen, returning the system to the old 6-2-4 type.

Police said the man exposed himself to three young girls at the park. One of the girls went home and told her parents, who notified police.

The defendant was ordered to visit a psychiatrist, with a report to be submitted to the mayor within 20 days.

Fairfield-Waterford Plans Band Uniform Fund Drive

One hundred seventy-five people attended the Music Boosters Band Futurama held at Crestview High School Monday evening. A mass ninety-piece Band Concert was held featuring the combined elementary, junior and senior high bands. The program consisted of two parts: the first a concert, and the second a discussion about band uniforms. The band uniform goal was set at $5,000.

County Traffic Safety Slogan Winner Announced

A Wellsville man will be presented a plaque today for winning the driver's safety slogan for Columbiana County. He is William Ferrall, 1808 Chester Ave., a Globe Brick purchasing agent, who was judged the county winner for his slogan of "Drive to Survive—Reach '65."

The state prize went to John W. Shiveley of London, with a slogan, "You Bet Your Life Safety Pays."

Ferrall said he believed his slogan will help reduce traffic accidents as it has a three-fold purpose. Drive to survive and reach '65. Drive to survive by being a defensive driver as well as just being a safe driver, this will encourage each driver to be aware of the other driver at all times.

The plaque signed by Gov. James A. Rhodes, was brought to the Columbiana County Traffic Safety Committee meeting Tuesday night at Lisbon by John Milbrodt, northeast district representative of the Department of Highway Safety.

Jud English of East Liverpool, chairman of the County Safety Committee, presided at last night's meeting and the committee endorsed the proposed State Issue No. 1 to sell bonds not to exceed $500 million to provide funds for completion of Ohio's major highway system.

The committee also discussed the annual vehicle checks this spring in the different cities in the county.

Drivers training programs in schools were discussed and the committee went on record to approving these classes and suggested that if schools can't afford them during school terms they should try to set them up for the summer, with pupils paying for this extra course.

The Traffic Safety Committee's next regular meeting will be April 20 at 7:30 p.m. in Lisbon village hall for election of officers.

She was a passenger in a car operated by Mrs. Esther Duriga, 48, of RD 1, Garfield Rd., Salem, which was struck at the intersection of Routes 18 and 45 by another auto driven by Vernon Thompson, 46, of Rensselaer, N. Y.

Mrs. Duriga and Mrs. Cameron were driving south on Route 45 and had the green light when Thompson, west-bound on Route 18, crashed the red light, struck the women's auto, and drove on.

The New York motorist was cited by a patrolman from the State Highway Patrol barracks at Canfield a half hour later near the scene of the mishap. Charged with hit-skip, the motorist posted $500 bond for his appearance in the Mahoning county court in Austintown Township.

After a three-car mishap Tuesday at 1:35 p.m., the Lisbon Patrol cited Mrs. Myrtle DeCorte, 54, of Cadiz for failing to yield the right of way in Glenmoor.

She was going west on County Road 424 and pulled into the path of a car operated by Allen McIntosh, 34, of East Liverpool, who was driving south on Route 267. The woman's car bounced off the McIntosh vehicle and struck an approaching car driven by Eugene R. Felton, 27, of RD 3, Wellsville. No one was hurt.

Conservatives Score Narrow Win In England

LONDON (AP)—Britain's Conservative government rejected demands for its resignation on Tuesday night after a rebellion in party ranks brought it within one vote of defeat on its bill to abolish price-fixing.

With scores of Conservative members of the House of Commons abstaining to show their disapproval, the government squeaked by 204-203 to put down a Laborite attempt to weaken the highly controversial government bill.

"Resign! resign!" cried opposition Laborites after the government mustered only the one-vote margin to defeat an amendment to exempt drugs and medicine from the bill.

Technically the issue was not a major vote of confidence, and the government would not have been obliged to resign had it lost. But some Conservatives, aware of the strength of moral pressure in British politics, felt resignation would have been unavoidable if the government had lost the vote.

The bill would prohibit manufacturers dictating retail prices, an established way of British business life. With Britain's general election to be held some time before Nov. 5, many Conservatives fear they will lose the votes of the country's 300,000 small shopkeepers. These merchants see supermarkets and other large chains driving them out of business if prices are free to fluctuate competitively.

also approved sending a peace force to Cyprus for three months while the mediator seeks a permanent accord.

Thant needed the assent of the Greek and Turkish Cypriots as well as Britain, Greece and Turkey, coguarantors of Cyprus' 1960 independence from Britain, before naming Tuomioja as mediator.

Cyprus Foreign Minister Spyros Kyprianou, a Greek Cypriot, said at U.N. headquarters Tuesday night he had notified the U.N. secretariat that President Makarios of Cyprus, who heads the island's Greek majority, had approved Tuomioja.

In Nicosia, the Cypriot capital, Vice President Fazil Kuchuk said he welcomed the nomination. Kuchuk is leader of the Turkish Cypriot faction, which is outnumbered 4 to 1 by islanders of Greek descent.

The British, Greek and Turkish governments advised Thant Tuesday that they approved Tuomioja, who is serving as Finnish ambassador to Sweden.

There was no indication how the Finn would attempt to bring the rival sides together. They are deadlocked over Makarios' desire to amend the Cyprus constitution to remove the veto power which the Turkish minority has over major legislation.

Mills remains strongly opposed to it, Johnson will need all of his political persuasiveness to get the committee to override the chairman.

Unless he can get Mills to go along, politicians think Johnson would accomplish a near-miracle by getting any bill passed before the November election.

Fairfield Ruritans To Meet Thursday

Fairfield Ruritan Club will hold its monthly dinner meeting at 7 p.m. Thursday at Heck's Restaurant near Columbiana. The conservation committee, under the direction of Charles Harper of Firestone Farms, will be in charge.

Three Boys Nabbed In Store Burglary

Two boys were apprehended late last night after they entered Corso's wine shop on E. State St. and stole a quantity of merchandise.

The boys, aged 16 and 15, ran toward S. Lundy Ave. when the patrol car driven by Lt. Richard Whinnery turned into the alley behind the shop, but Patrolman Paul Fast, who was checking doors, nabbed the pair behind the Ohio Edison Co. A third youth, aged 15, was subsequently implicated by the boys.

The boys entered the shop through the unlocked basement doors. The third youth, evidently a lookout, was gone when the two came out of the shop, but police picked him up later. They will be turned over to juvenile authorities.

The pair had in their possession when apprehended some bottles of wine, sausages, candy bars, cigarettes and other items.

said. They diagnosed the site of the bleeding as the esophagus, the tube which conveys food to the stomach.

The doctors operated to remove the spleen and used the vein that carries blood from the spleen as a shunt to the kidneys. This apparently improved blood flow and lowered blood pressure in the bleeding veins.

Then they inserted a tube to tamp the bleeding area and stem the flow of blood. This tube was removed at noon Tuesday and six hours later doctors said there had been no further bleeding.

A Time to Meditate:

Door to Christian Faith

By REV. JOHN S. MOORE

At this time of the year the Christian might profitably meditate upon the phrases of Jesus in which he uses the term: "I am."

In these phrases, Jesus offers us pictures of how God works in our lives. They indicate the thoughts of Jesus on how God views the full, abundant life which Christ came to give us.

IN THE 10th CHAPTER of St. John there are the phrases, "I am the good shepherd" and "I am the door."

The audience that heard these words was made up of shepherds. They knew what it meant to be a good shepherd and to lead a flock safely back into the fold at night.

Then the shepherd would lie down at the entrance of his pasture, a secure barrier between his flock and the world.

That barrier seemed to symbolize the multiple benefits, security and peace that the sheep enjoy inside the fold in the presence of the shepherd.

Here the sheep sensed their shepherd, his ability to supply all their needs, and they trusted him.

JUST SO, we enter into a knowledge and an experience of God by faith in Jesus Christ, His faith and the kind of life He lived.

Jesus said that He was the door and that no man could come to the faith except by Him.

As we enter, the barrier keeps out of this fellowship erroneous ideas and confusing influences of the outside world.

Today, we are in conscious fellowship with God, a fellowship in which our trust and faith are strengthened because we have access to the power of

'I Am the Door'

God, the salvation promised by Jesus.

In the New Testament we learn that God is not a remote person, but a spirit who is ever present, vigorous and an intimate companion to those who seek to follow His ways.

JESUS TAUGHT: "I am with you always."

In this kind of fellowship we learn about the purpose and the meaning of life; about the values and principles according to which man can live usefully and happily, and we also discern something of the underlying purpose of life.

We also find in the teachings of Jesus a revelation of the truth that illuminates the mind, the heart and the center of life to give it significance and purpose.

Jesus said: "If you abide in Me (and) continue in My words you shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free."

"I am with you always, and My grace is sufficient for you."

TOMORROW: His Spirit Abides.

McKinley, Massillon Dominate Big 8 Selections

Salem Players Get Honorable Mention

Massillon and Canton McKinley dominated first team selections in the balloting for the Ohio Big 8 Conference all-star basketball team.

The Bulldogs were the loop's representative in the finals of the state tournament completed last weekend at Columbus.

Salem's only recognition came when Wayne "Bink" Washington and George Begalla received honorable mention.

The squad chosen comprised all seniors. The first unit packed plenty of scoring punch, although the biggest athlete selected was only 6-3.

DeWayne Lipkins of Canton McKinley was the top point-getter. He picked up 73. Massillon's Floyd Pierce moved into the number four spot among the league's all-time scorers with 150 points, and picked up a berth on the No. 1 unit.

Ed Buchanan of the Tigers, right behind Pierce in scoring with 137 markers, was the tallest player selected to the first squad.

Arnie Fontes, floor general for McKinley's powerful aggregation, was picked. Bob Baker, sixth among the all-time scoring leaders with 123 points was

Auerbach Wanted To Be Schoolteacher

BOSTON (AP)—Like to be the most successful coach in professional basketball history?

Arnold (Red) Auerbach—self-assured owner of the label—would rather be a schoolteacher.

Driven by a fierce desire for success, the cigar-smoking whip hand behind Boston's six National Basketball Association championships is many things to many people. He is called a dictator, tactical genius, referee-baiter, frustrated actor.

But a teacher? Never.

That's how little is known about the man whose 18 NBA seasons, nearly 1,400 games and over 890 victories are all-time records.

"I love teaching," Red confesses from under the fading, receding fringe of hair. "If the salaries had been somewhere near comparable I never would have let the classroom."

The tough taskmaster was waiving a piece of chalk instead of the tightly-rolled program—now his trademark—when World War II broke out.

"I made $1,900 that year," Auerbach says. Some of the students picked up $2,700 working part-time in the shipyards. When I returned after the war I was offered step-up raises for

McDowell Lacks Control; Indians Lose To Giants 9-8

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Troubles continue to pile up for Sam McDowell, a left-hander the Cleveland Indians are counting on for the southpaw pitching help they need.

McDowell, 22, plagued by a sore arm and an injured finger so far this spring, had trouble with his control Tuesday in the Tribe's 9-8 loss to San Francisco. The game was halted after seven innings because of rain and 50-degree temperature.

In a five-inning stint, McDowell allowed eight hits and five runs and walked two. The 6-foot-5 hurler, following coaching staff instructions, threw mostly fast balls, which the Giants whacked solidly.

Orlando Cepeda, who is hitting .395 in the exhibition season, got the big blow off McDowell—a three-run homer in the first inning that cleared the left field scoreboard 400 feet away.

Mets' Stadium Nearly Done

New Structure To Seat 55,000 Fans

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — There's snow in the dugout and center field is a swamp, but the new home of the New York Mets is going to be ready for the baseball season.

Most of the 55,000 seats are already bolted in place in the five tiers of stands. The infield grass is growing. Bulldozers are churning in the outfield, filling in the mud puddles.

"We'll be ready. The parking lots, the escalators, the restaurants, the drinking fountains, the playing field—all ready by April 17," said Rick Praeger, a partner in the engineering and architectural firm that designed Shea Stadium.

And so in a little more than three weeks, baseball fans, those famous New York Mets — Choo Choo Coleman, Rod Kanehl, Larry Bearnarth, Amado Samuel, and all—will charge out to play in their new playground.

The result will be a combination of the worst baseball team in the National League — 10th twice and favored to be 10th again—and what appears to be the finest baseball stadium ever built.

There isn't a post in the place. Every seat is pointed at second base, or the 50-yard-line for football. The Jets of the American Football League will also play here.

The box seats all swing on rails to new positions for football. The operation takes about 10 to 15 minutes.

The worst seat in the house is better than most seats in other stadiums, and more colorful. The seats are painted in shades of green, blue, orange and yellow.

There are no bleachers. And for the next two years, fans who can't stand to watch the Mets any more can always take one of the 21 escalators out and go watch the World's Fair across the street.

Nicholson Hit Sparks Chisox

Howard To Report To Dodgers Camp

By MURRAY CHASS

Six years ago major league scouts, check books wide open, flocked to Dave Nicholson for his signature. Last season American League pitchers, mouths watering, scurried to the mound for his next strikeout.

His signature was expensive and only one scout got it, but his strikeouts came cheaply and just about every pitcher who faced him got them. For he fanned a record 175 times, or once every 2.6 times at bat.

The 1964 season may not be any different for the Chicago White Sox' 24-year-old strikeout artist, but at least he's starting off the spring in an uncharacteristic manner.

His eighth-inning two-run triple that powered the White Sox to a 4-1 exhibition victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers Tuesday was his fifth hit in the last four games.

The hits include two home runs and two triples and brought his average to .258 for the spring, which is considerably higher than his .210 lifetime mark.

Even more ominous for opposing hurlers, though, is his declining strikeout rate. In 31 appearances at the plate he has fanned five times, a rate of one every 6.2 times at bat.

Despite his ability to miss the ball more than he hits it, Nicholson is likely to remain in Chicago's outfield a long time. The White Sox recently placed a $750,000 price tag on him, or $4,285.71 a strikeout.

"Nicholson has the greatest potential of anyone playing today," said Manager Al Lopez. "He could bust out anytime."

The Frank Howard story, meanwhile, is nearing an end, at least for this spring. The Dodgers said Tuesday the huge outfielder, who had talked of retiring, will report to their Vero Beach, Fla., camp this Friday.

"He hasn't agreed to terms," General Manager Buzzie Bavasi said, "but we are offering him a raise and I don't think we will have any problem."

In exhibition action, the New York Mets nipped the New York Yankees 1-0 on Frank Thomas' eighth-inning single. Bob Gibson helped pitch St. Louis to a 12-3 victory over Kansas City.

San Francisco edged Cleveland 9-8 with the aid of Orlando Cepeda's three-run homer in the first. Rookie Rich Allen clubbed two home runs in Philadelphia's 7-1 triumph against Cincinnati.

Pittsburgh made four errors, which helped Milwaukee to a 3-1 victory. Washington won its third straight game 8-3 over Detroit. Camilo Pascual permitted just one hit in five innings as Minnesota downed Houston 6-0. Rain canceled the game between Boston and the Los Angeles Angels.

2 Managers Earn From Boxer's Purses

Senate Investigators Talk With Liston's Advisor Today

By W. B. RAGSDALE JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate investigators turn today to Sonny Liston's financial adviser for an explanation of why the former heavyweight champion signed away promotion profits from his fights and apparently got nothing in return.

The stock in Inter-Continental Promotions, Inc., brought others $100,000 in dividends from Liston's title fight last month with Cassius Clay and may be more valuable in the future.

The adviser, Jack Nilon, also is expected to be asked about his contract with Liston which gave him the manager's 50 per cent share of the purse while Liston already had another manager.

Nilon and his brother, Bob, were scheduled to testify as the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee resumed hearings on circumstances surrounding Clay's Feb. 25 victory over Liston on a controversial technical knockout.

The subcommittee headed by Sen. Philip Hart, D-Mich., seeks to determine whether federal regulation is needed for professional boxing.

Another phase of the hearing is aimed at learning whether Liston's underworld ties, revealed in previous sessions have been severed.

Garland D. Cherry, a Chester, Pa., attorney, told the subcommittee Tuesday how Inter-Continental was organized to promote Liston's championship fights and give Liston a share of the promotional profits.

Cherry, secretary of the firm controlled by Bob Nilon and his other brother, Jim, said Liston was given 50 per cent of the firm's stock. He insisted that no other fighter ever before had been given a share of these profits.

Cherry said that Jack Nilon became Liston's business adviser and the fighter relied heavily on Nilon's advice. Cherry said it was his impression that Liston had almost no understanding of business matters.

Cherry said two weeks ago he was surprised to learn during talks with the Internal Revenue Service about profits from the fight that Jack Nilon was receiving 50 per cent of Liston's purse as a fighter.

Sharp Receives MVP Award At West Branch Dinner

Honored Cagers Hear Speech By Finnigan

Carrot-topped Phil Sharp, the West Branch Warriors' 6'3" departing center, was named the most valuable player and best rebounder at the annual basketball banquet Tuesday night at the school.

Athletic Director Joe Tucker, who presented the varsity trophies, said Sharp was the team's leading scorer and the most consistently high performer. He was presented a three-year letter.

The only other three-letter man, Dan Hendricks, 5'11" guard, was given the scholastic award trophy by Boosters Club president Dewaine Stone.

Best foul shooter trophy went to Gary Barber who connected on 78 per cent of his throws from the line in the past season. Tucker called him the "most underrated player" all season.

Jim Boyle, 6' forward, copped the "most improved" trophy for his steady advancement through the season.

Tucker, who has bowed out as head basketball coach after nine years but is continuing as athletic director, expressed disappointment with the early part of the season but praised the boys for their cooperation and hard work which won them seven of eight games at the end of the season. The only late defeat was at the hands of gifted Youngstown Woodrow Wilson which emerged victorious in the Youngstown sectional tournament.

The retiring mentor also praised the Boosters Club, sponsors of the annual banquet, for its assistance during the season.

Coaching's golden tongued orator, Ed Finnigan, who packs great emotion and a heap of common sense into his school-boy lectures, was the speaking highlight.

Finnigan, who injects his humor in quick jets over his audience, is athletic director and head football coach at Western Reserve University and "discovered" Harrison Dillard, one of the world's great track stars.

Finnigan outlined five traits which he says are common to all the finest young men and women he has known in athletics. They are: 1) spiritual soundness, 2) courage, 3) excellence, 4) respect for oneself and 5) respect for parents.

"Let all the world know you are a man of the church," Finnigan told the athletes and some 200 parents and guests. "Have you ever known of a great athlete who was not humble?"

He described the inimitable decathlon Olympic winner Rafter Johnson who was on the verge of capitulation to his Russian rival. Johnson fell to his knees and prayed to God before 140,000. Looking down at the "USA" across his shirt, he remembered his obligation to America and prayed not that he would win, but that he would do his best, Finnigan recalled. Johnson won and the huge mob roared its praises of this humble man, "a believer in his God and his Church."

Lou Groza, the coach said, is another strictly religious man, a devout Roman Catholic. "He is the best football player I know, and a great example by his religious life," Finnigan added.

On courage, Finnigan said, "No one was made like you so don't try to act like someone else."

Finnigan said that on the locker of every athlete at WRU is written these words: "It's very easy to be ordinary, but it takes courage to excel—and you must excel. Dillard was a man who desired excellence frantically. 'He vowed as a poor youth to become the world's greatest, and he did.'"

Finally, Finnigan told the athletes to "keep your body clean and decent" and to show respect to mother and dad. "Take time out to say thanks to Ma and Pa for their part in your life," he concluded.

Mrs. Sue Stroup, girls' physical education teacher and cheerleader adviser, presented seniors Cheryl Barnett and Kathy Kile as dual winners of varsity trophies for their leadership, character and loyalty.

Other recognition went to these students:

Third-year letters, Hendricks, Sharp; second-year letters, Barber, Peach; first-year letters, Jim Boyle, John Mensch, Jon Yeagley, Jim Wallace.

Reserves: Bob Buttermore, Ray Dalton, Wayne Fieldhouse, Daryl Loudon, John Rill, Dennis Tedrow, Earl Blake, Geoff Bush, Tom Chain, Jim Heacock, Lynn Sangree, Dave Scotch, Jim Steed, Bob Steed, Ray Stoffer, Bob Wallace.

Managers: Tom Knoedler, Jim Stoffer, Ken Gibbons, Craig Buchanan.

TOPS AT WEST BRANCH — Crowning point of the annual basketball banquet Tuesday night at West Branch High was the presentation of awards for high performance. Joe Tucker, athletic director and ex-coach, hands Phil Sharp the MVP

Houston's Pitcher Back In Hospital

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston Colt pitcher Jim Umbricht is back in the hospital, a year after having a malignant tumor removed.

It was learned Monday he has been hospitalized since March 16. An official of the National League club said there was an agreement the Colts, the doctors and the family would say nothing about his condition.

Spokesmen at the University of Texas M.D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute declined to give any information on the big right-hander's condition, other than the date he was admitted.

Umbricht, 33, underwent a six-hour operation on March 7, 1963. He was in uniform opening day of the season and had a 4-3 record while pitching 76 innings in 35 appearances as a relief pitcher.

West Branch Whips Sebring Golfers

A sizzling 39 by Dan Hendricks led West Branch's veteran golf team to an easy 8½-½ victory over Sebring at Robbyn's Knoll course Tuesday.

It was the first match of the campaign for Coach Gene Smythe and his aggregation. Par for the nine-hole layout is 36.

Thursday, West Branch travels to Atwater for another duel match.

Deon Good came in with 40 for the winners. Dick Shreve carded 46, and Dick Markovich shot a 48.

Terry Gaitner led the Trojans attack. He put together a round of 50. One stroke behind were Bill Whitacre and Jeff Carman with scores of 51. Chuck Garver posted a 61.

Morrow Rides Crest of Oil Boom

NIGHT IN MORROW COUNTY—The transformation of this land is even visible after darkness falls.

Problems In Ohio County Also Arise

By ROBERT COCHNAR

MT. GILEAD, Ohio — (NEA) —The sounds, sights and smells of oil country are arresting.

The gently rolling countryside of central Ohio's Morrow County, once bucolic and peaceful, is spiked with the tall steel cranes of oil rigs.

The heavy smell of crude oil has replaced the musky odor of fertilizer and hay. The crunching of drill bits merges with the around-the-clock clank and grind of powerful engines.

At night, the flames of gas burn-offs light the sky.

The senses of oil man and landowner tingle with expectation. For at the site of the biggest oil boom in the United States today, the age-old, get-rich-quick feeling is present. And so is the solemn warning call for moderation and good sense.

Ohio is known in the oil fraternity as the "outlaw state." Until recently, there were no laws to regulate the spacing of wells or the amount of oil that may be taken from a well in a day. As a result, some wells are close together as lamp posts.

Several weeks ago, U.S. Secretary of the Interior Stewart Udall wrote Ohio Gov. James Rhodes that he was shocked at the "uncontrolled development and production" of oil in Morrow County.

He added: "This oil boom has been characterized by outdated and wasteful practices such as town drilling, close and irregular rates of production and the flaring of natural gas."

THE STATE OF OHIO burned some of its own midnight oil in the last several weeks in an effort to develop regulations which would curb some of these activities.

On March 10, an emergency statute went into effect which cancel permits for wells not yet drilled, requires oil promoters to post performance bonds, provides for 10-acre spacing of the wells.

But oil promoters aren't convinced that any law — at this point — will curb all wasteful practices. One promoter says: "The big companies here are holding single well production to a maximum of 400 barrels a day, but plenty of independents are pulling as much as 800 barrels daily. This will be a hard thing to police."

A spokesman for Rhodes in Columbus said that "the oil boys are in for a rude awakening if they are foolish enough to disregard the emergency statute." He said a team of state inspectors is already in the Morrow County fields.

The possible depletion of oil and gas reserves isn't the problem with which Mayor Sid Tennant of Mt. Gilead must wrestle.

IT'S THE excessive wear and tear on the village streets, the potential dangers of open water holes and unfenced rigs, the "flagrant violations of village ordinances" and the changing personality of his community that bother him.

Tennant, who owns Sid's Cleaners on Main Street, has been mayor since Jan. 1. He says the boom "hasn't given our government any appreciable amount of money. We charge a flat $1,000 for an oil drilling permit, but administrative costs eat up a lot of that.

"We've had to add another policeman (the town now has five) to cope with the terrific traffic.

"Many townspeople are confused and frenzied. Why, I never thought the town had so many greedy people. They are walking around with dollar signs in their eyes, taken in by the sharpies who tell them fantastic stories of the million dollars that's buried under them."

But Tennant admits the oil boom has uplifted the county's economy. Service industries for the oil men, pipeline companies, maintenance shops, new restaurants, a small building boom (including the plush Petroleum Club) have created jobs and increased population. Deposits in the town's two banks have increased. In February, more trucks and cars were sold in the county than ever before.

But the county, with a population of about 19,000, had a healthy economy to start with. Cashier Dan Eachus of M. Gilead's First National Bank points out that total farm income averages $10 million a year and four diversified industries employ nearly 4,000 persons.

"WE'VE GOT three kinds of people in the county," Mayor Tennant says. "There are the oil men who've moved in and alarmed and deluded people. There are the citizens who have been alarmed and deluded. And there are the middle-of-the-road people who are trying to keep things steady."

But Sid Tennant is part of the oil boom, too. He and his neighbors have "united" their properties and oil men will soon be drilling, perhaps in the mayor's own back yard.

When Buying Beef, Consider These Hints From Specialist

By ED WATKINS
Consumer Marketing Specialist

Let's look at beef purchasing. Persons who buy quantities of beef for their freezers generally do it in one of three ways:

1. Buy quantities of various cuts from retail stores when they are "specials."
2. Buy a side or quarter from a frozen food locker or other quantity meat distributor.
3. Buy an animal from a livestock producer or livestock market and then have it processed.

Of prime importance to the purchaser are two things:

1. The grade of the meat. Is it USDA Prime, Choice or Good or comparable to one of these grades?

THESE ARE THE THREE most common grades which indicate the quality of the meat and are probably the best guide or the average buyer. Prime graded meat is used mostly by restaurants while Choice and Good are the grades commonly found in our retail stores. Choice makes up the largest single part of our beef supply.

2. What is the price per pound of each cut of meat that you put into your freezer?

Or, assuming from the three sources the breakdown of cuts was the same, which costs the least? The quantity purchased from the retail store or that purchased from the quantity meat distributor or the live animal? Keep in mind the difference between "carcass" or "hanging weight" and the weight that you put into a freezer. "Hanging weight" is the weight left after slaughter but before the fat is trimmed off and before the carcass is cut into the familiar retail cuts.

THE USDA HAS suggested the following very general guidelines for the yield from a beef carcass:

1. One-fourth steak cuts.
2. One-fourth roast cuts.
3. One-fourth ground beef and stew meat.
4. One-fourth waste.

Thus with a cutting loss of approximately 20-25 per cent, the weight you take home will be that much less than the hanging weight which is commonly advertised.

The person who buys, for example, a 1000 pound U.S. Choice live steer will have a hanging weight of approximately 580 pounds which is further reduced by the 20-25 per cent cutting loss.

Person who buy meat for freezer storage are cautioned that the temperature can result in changes in color and flavor. Temperature changes during storage sufficient to cause even partial thawing and refreezing increases drip loss and makes meat less juicy.

Theodore Roosevelt's trip to Panama in 1906 was the first time a president of the United States had ever left the country's main boundaries during his term of office.

Cooking Is Fun

BROWN HONEY BARS

1 cup sifted flour, 1/2 teaspoon baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon baking soda, 1/2 cup salt, 1 egg, 1/2 cup butter or margarine, 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 cup dark honey, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 cup quick-cooking rolled oats, 1 cup shredded coconut, 1-3 cup coarsely broken walnuts.

Sift together the flour, baking powder, baking soda and salt.

Beat egg until thick and ivory colored. Cream together the butter, sugar, honey and vanilla, gently beat in sifted dry ingredients. Stir in rolled oats, coconut and walnuts.

Turn into a buttered cake pan (9 by 9 by 1 1/4 inches) and spread evenly.

Bake in a slow (325 degrees) oven 25 to 30 minutes, until top is brown and center doesn't "quake." Cool in pan on wire rack for 10 to 15 minutes; cut into bars while still warm; remove with spatula to rack to cool. Store in tightly covered container.

Note: If coconut is dry, moisten with 1 tablespoon orange juice.

Easter Ham Has Spicy Partner

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

there is in concocting it at home! The first sauce recipes of this sort that we tried were made by a traditional mixing method and had a tendency to "leak" on storage. A change of mixing method was needed to give a satin-smooth product that would remain stable over a reasonable period of time. The following recipe incorporates this change in method.

After the hot sweet mustard sauce has had its debut with baked ham or smoked boneless pork shoulder butt, you can use the remainder in various ways. Here are several suggestions.

Mix some of the sauce with mayonnaise or sour cream or both and use this combination as a dressing for fruit salad. Add it, long with a little mayonnaise, to chopped hard-cooked eggs for a salad or for a sandwich filling. Use it, too, to add to the yolk mixture for deviled eggs.

Mix a little of the sauce with cooked vegetables—snap beans, carrots, green peas — and use as a filling for stuffed tomato salad. If you haven't small amounts of cooked leftover vegetables on hand, you can use a package of cooked frozen mixed vegetables. In either case, add a little finely diced raw celery for crisp texture contrast.

Hot Sweet Mustard Sauce
Three tablespoons dry mustard, 2 tablespoons corn oil, 2 tablespoons water, 1 tablespoon corn starch, ¼ cup sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1-3 cup white vinegar, 2-3 cup water.

In a small mixing bowl stir together the mustard and corn oil until perfectly smooth. Add water, 1 tablespoon at a time, stirring after each addition to keep smooth; reserve.

In a small saucepan stir together thoroughly the corn starch, sugar and salt. Gradually stir in vinegar and water; mix until smooth.

Cook and stir constantly over medium heat until mixture thickens and comes to a boil. Boil 1 minute, stirring constantly.

Add to mustard mixture, pouring in a steady stream and stirring constantly to keep it smooth.

Turn into jar. Cool. Cover and store in refrigerator. Makes about 1 cup.

Note: For a deeper yellow color, you may stir in a pinch of turmeric with the mustard.

Angel Food Delight Real Dessert

Angel Food Delight is made with convenience foods. The recipe really lets you decide just how convenient the making will be.

An angel food cake is the base — you can buy one, make one from a mix or with leftover egg whites in the refrigerator, start from scratch. Sour cream added to instant chocolate pudding mix makes a less sweet but creamy smooth frosting, and a whipped cream frosting adds the finishing touches.

It's best to make Angel Food Delight several hours before serving, and then refrigerate to allow the flavors to blend and the cake to set, to make serving easier.

This is a filling dessert and one that will be more welcome at mid-evening than right after a large dinner.

Angel Food Delight
1 3-oz. package instant chocolate pudding mix
1 cup milk
½ cup dairy sour cream
1 10-inch round unfrosted angel food cake
1 cup whipping cream, whipped
2 to 3 tablespoons confectioners' sugar

Combine pudding mix with milk and cook over medium heat stirring constantly, until smooth and mixture bubbles. Cool slightly and stir in dairy sour cream.

Chill thoroughly. Split angel food cake into two layers. Spread chocolate filling between layers. Reassemble cake. Beat whipping cream until stiff and sweeten with confectioners' sugar. Spread top and sides of cake with whipped cream and garnish with shaved chocolate or chocolate shot if desired.

Keep refrigerated until ready to serve. Makes 10 to 12 servings.

Coffee Cakes Delightful Fare For Easter Brunch

By GAYNOR MADDOX
With Easter morning breakfast or brunch, you will enjoy these pungent, egg-shaped, little coffee cakes.

Molasses, cinnamon, nutmeg, pecans and chewy raisins combine to make them unusually delicious and surprising. A light frosting studded with raisins and pecans gives them added Easter morning appeal.

RAISIN EASTER COFFEE CAKES

1 cup dark seedless raisins, 1 cup pecans, ½ cup shortening, ¾ cup sugar, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, ½ teaspoon nutmeg, 2 tablespoons light molasses, 1 egg, 2 cups sifted flour, 2½ teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, ¾ cup milk, Powdered Sugar Frosting.

Chop raisins and pecans. Blend together shortening, sugar and spices until light and fluffy. Resift flour with baking powder and salt. Add to sugar mixture alternately with milk. Stir in raisins and pecans.

Spoon into 12 greased egg-shaped pans or gelatin molds. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 25 to 30 minutes, or just until cakes test done. Remove from pans to wire racks.

While still warm, spread tops with Powdered Sugar Frosting and decorate with raisins, pecans and coconut. Serve plain or with butter. Makes 1 dozen individual coffee cakes.

Batter may also be baked in a greased 1½-quart ring mold. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 35 to 40 minutes.

POWDERED SUGAR FROSTING

Mix 1 cup powdered sugar with 2 tablespoons hot water to make glaze consistency. Tint with pastel colors as desired.

Apricot preserves make a mighty good filling for sponge cake that is baked (or bought) in layers. After the layers are sandwiched together with the jam, frost the entire cake with whipped cream and throw on a handful of toasted slivered and blanched almonds. Definitely for company. Go easy when you sweeten the whipped cream because the preserves are sweet.

The program consisted of a film of the 1962 title game of the National Football League, shown by Don Burkio, program chairman.

Announcement was made concerning a pancake and sausage supper, sponsored annually by the Kiwanis Club, to be held April 25 at South Side School, with Gordon Warner as general chairman of the event.

Next week's program will feature special musical selections, under the direction of Dale Guchemand, instrumental music instructor in the Columbiana schools. Bob Edwards, chairman of the vocational guidance committee, is program chairman.

ELTON BEARD, Youngstown Rotarian, showed colored movies of his 40,000 mile trip by plane, bus and boat, through Africa at Mondays Rotary Club meeting. Featured were scenes of public game reserves.

Countries included in the tour were Egypt, Ethiopia, Kenya, Tanganyika, South Africa and Uganda. Beard was introduced by his uncle, John Heintzelman, program chairman.

The club will entertain Columbiana High School seniors at next week's meeting with "ladies night" also being featured. A humorous talk will be presented by Ted Berndt of Warren.

Guests at the meeting included Mrs. Beard and Mrs. Heintzelman and three visiting Rotarians, Roy Bowman of Boardman, Howard Thomas of Struthers and Don Roher of Salem. Robert Bertelsen accompanied four students, Nancy Lower and Gayle Gloss, Jr. of Columbiana High School, and Gary Wilhelm and Jacquelyn Yacher of Crestview High School, to the World Affairs Institute during the weekend at Cincinnati.

MRS. ROBERT EXTEN reported on the regional conference held recently in Steubenville at the Columbiana Democratic Women's Club meeting held Monday in the home economic room of the high school.

The Lenten Story

BY WOODY ISHMAEL

WHY WEEPEST THOU?

After He had risen from the dead, early on Easter morning, Jesus appeared first to Mary Magdalene, the sinner whom He had saved. Mary stood weeping outside the empty tomb.

When she turned around, she saw a man whom she mistook for the gardener. "Woman, why weepst thou? Whom seekest thou," He asked her.

"Sir," she said, "if thou hast removed Him, tell me where thou hast laid Him and I will take Him away."

Then the man called her Mary and she knew at once that it was Jesus. "Rabboni," she cried out, which in Hebrew means master.

Jesus told her to tell the disciples, "I ascend unto My Father, your Father; and to My God, and your God." (John XX:17)

Reischauer was reported recovering and his doctor said the wound in his right thigh should be healed in about two weeks.

The ambassador also had been scheduled to appear on the eight-minute program, which went to the United States via the Relay 2 communications satellite.

College Professor New Ruby Counsel

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Dr. Hubert Winston Smith, college professor who is Jack Ruby's new head legal counsel, indicates he will pursue new lines of defense in seeking to reverse Ruby's death sentence.

Smith, 56, director of the University of Texas Law School's Law-Science Institute, was introduced Tuesday night as chief defense lawyer by Eva Grant, Ruby's sister.

A graduate of Harvard's law and medical schools, Smith said he entered the case, without fee, to see that every relevant issue of the Ruby case was examined scientifically by "the best medical and legal aid available."

He met Ruby for the first time Tuesday but said he had kept up with the trial through another defense lawyer, Joe Tonahill.

Ruby was convicted March 14 of slaying Lee Harvey Oswald, President John F. Kennedy's accused assassin, and sentenced to death after a month-long trial.

Ruby's family dismissed Melvin M. Belli of San Francisco, their chief lawyer after his criticism of Dallas and the verdict.

A Houston lawyer, Percy Foreman, accepted the case but quit four days later after what he called differences of opinion between himself and the Ruby family.
